

Ender Backpack

Why i should use this Mod ?

Are you tired of the 27 slots inventory when today Minecraft vanilla includes more than 1000 different items ?

You want a bigger inventory without using a mod that enlarges the player's inventory and sometimes leads to incompatibility problems with other mods ?

You are tired of mods that add easily craftable backpacks and replace the interest for shulkerboxes ?

Description

This mod adds a new item called «Ender Backpack» which allows to store items inside. It's like an EnderChest

You can use it by doing a right click when you hold it in your hand without being in sneak

What's configurable ?

- You can chose if players will receive the backpack when they log in (only if they don't already have one) or if they have to craft it
- You can choose if you want the contents of the backpack to be dropped to the ground when the players die
- You can configure a size for the backpack according to the time the player has spent on the server

This is the craft to use to craft an ender backpack

This is the default configuration about the growing backpack feature
